

The Pyrolyses installation is ready to start production

The installation to produce Biochar is now ready! This pilot unit is a machine that is able to process about 10 tons a day of organic reststreams. This results in more than 3 tons Biochar a day. Biochar can be used as soil improvement or as raw material for briquettes, building materials or other applications.

The first testresults are excellent!